May Try to Delay Elimination of Grade Crossings

Both Branches of Legislature Expected to Favor Constitutional Amendment to Hasten Work Although Some Leaders Want More Time to Study Question.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, Feb. 10.—Governor Smith's proposal that the constitution be amended to permit the state to issue $300,000,000 in bonds for the elimination of grade crossings is expected to be adopted by the 1926 Legislature despite the fact some republican members would like to see it put off for another year.

The governor's plan was adopted by the Legislature of 1924 and it is approved at the present session it would be submitted to the voters at the election this fall.

The Assembly already has adopted a resolution offered by Assemblyman Davison, Nassau Republican, providing for a complete investigation of the grade crossing problem by a joint legislative committee.

The committee would report to the present Legislature not later than March 1. The Senate is expected to adopt a similar resolution this week.

Under the governor's plan the railroads would pay 50 per cent of the cost of eliminating the crossings, the state 25 per cent and the locality the other 25 per cent. If the railroads did not have sufficient money to carry out their part of the plan the state would be in a position to loan it to them.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders declare the grade crossing problem is one of the most serious confronting the state. The governor's argument for immediate action on his proposal is that delay means additional lives will be sacrificed at the 400 grade crossings throughout the state.

Speaker McGinnies, the Republican leader of the lower house, looks with favor on the governor's proposal. It was the speaker who blocked an effort on the part of Senator Knight, Republican leader of the upper house, and Senator Hewitt, chairman of the finance committee, to have the Davison resolution amended so the committee would not have to report until next year.

"The grade crossing problem is a very serious one and the Legislature has got to face it," said McGinnies. "But we should have all the information we can get on the subject before we act and that, I believe, is the purpose of the Davison resolution."

Assemblyman Bloch, Democratic leader of the house, charged, however, that the sole purpose of the Davison resolution was to delay action on the governor's proposal.

ASSEMBLY APPROVES PROPOSED AMENDMENT.
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 10.—The Senate is expected to act favorably this week on a resolution sponsored by Assemblyman Schick, Republican, of Westchester, calling for an amendment to the constitution which would prevent a city from annexing territory without the approval of the residents. The resolution was adopted in the assembly last night without a dissenting vote.

GUILTY OF VIOLATING OFFICIAL SECRETS ACT.
By Telegram to The Freeman. London, Feb. 10.—Following a trial at which most of the evidence was secret, Joseph O'Leary was sentenced today to 18 months imprisonment and Nathan McGough to fifteen months imprisonment for violation of the official secrets act.

The men were arrested when raids were made on reports that naval secrets were being stolen at Portsmouth, the British navy port.

JUSTICE COURT, ORDER OF ANARASTH, CARD PARTY.
Wednesday evening in Masonic hall, Broadway and Strand, a card party will be held under the auspices of the Anarasth, Order of the Anarasth, to which the public is invited. The committee in charge has arranged a pleasant evening for those who attend.

TY TREASURER'S OFFICE TO BE CLOSED THURSDAY.
Owing to the fact that Thursday is Lincoln's Birthday when the offices of the city will be closed, the office of the city treasurer at the city hall will also be closed all day. Payroll checks will be paid on Friday.

New Library Books.
Already the Kingston City Library is materially adding to its collection by the purchase of the following very valuable books, made possible by the gift of money from the Federation of Women's Clubs: A New World Loom-Leaf Atlas, a World Book, A condensed encyclopedia and "Synonyms and Antonyms" by F. S. Allen. These are expensive books but for this library they are well worth the cost.

A Fund Sale.
The Ladies Aid Society of the First Street Reformed Church will hold a fund sale at the Rose-Gordon store on Saturday afternoon, from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Noted Lecturer Comes Thursday

First of Junior League Lecture Course—Vassar College Professor Has Interesting Subjects, Illustrated by Pictures Shown for First Time.

The Junior League course of lectures given by Dr. Bruno Roselli, professor of Italian at Vassar College, will begin on Thursday February 12, with a stereopticon lecture on Leptis Magna, the ancient city newly unearthed which Dr. Roselli visited last summer.

The recent investigations of Howard Carter and the late Lord Carnarvon which resulted in the discovery of Tutankhamen's tomb has made the world more and more interested in the life and customs of early times and these discoveries at Leptis Magna, pictures of which have been brought by Dr. Roselli and are being shown now for the first time in America. These pictures are bound to throw a new light on a place interesting for many reasons, not the least of them being that it was the birthplace of one of the Roman emperors, Septimius Severus.

The pictures are devoted to the findings at Leptis Magna as related, statues of heathen gods, the waterfountain whence put out the boats that carried Rome's grain supply, and an imposing palace which is of pronounced Roman type, though showing marked Egyptian and Oriental influence not found in European ruins. On the palace door is an inscription dedicating the building to "Imperator Caesar Lucius" (Septimius Severus).

Dr. Roselli's course will include many other subjects of widely varying scope, all of which should prove interesting. He will speak on the Ruhr, Albania, Flume, the immigration problem as it affects Italians, and on Duse, Papini and Pirandello. Tickets for the course may be obtained from Mrs. Newton Fessenden, 98 Fair street, telephone 76, or from any member of the Junior League. Tickets for single lectures also may be procured.

The lectures will be given in the chapel of the First Dutch Church and will begin at 8:30 p. m.

Mrs. Wright Has Receipts, Too
Again Denies Robert Jackson's Story in Police Court That She Lived With Him as His Wife, and Produced Receipts That She Bought Goods in Her Name.

Mrs. Margaret Wright, the negro who arrested Robert Jackson, a negro, on a charge of assault in the third degree, called at The Freeman office today with some receipts showing that she had purchased goods in her own name. She said she wanted to deny the statement made to Judge Harry E. Schrick in police court on Monday by Jackson that he, Jackson, had lived with her for the past two years.

Jackson, to prove his contention, showed Judge Schrick Monday several receipts for goods purchased made out in the name of "Mrs. M. Jackson." Today Mrs. Wright had several receipts with her showing that goods had been delivered at her house made out in the name of "Mrs. Margaret Wright."

Mrs. Wright produced the receipts to show that Mr. Jackson's statement to Judge Schrick was, to say the least, untrue.

Prohibit Masks And Disguises
Wearing Them Would Be Prohibited Under Bill Introduced in State Legislature—Threats and Intimidations Made a Felony.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, N. Y., Feb. 10.—A bill which would prohibit the wearing of masks and disguises was introduced in the legislature today by Assemblyman Cuvillier, New York Democrat. Cuvillier said the measure was aimed at the Ku Klux Klan.

Under the measure, threats and intimidations of persons would be made a felony.

"I believe the enactment of my bill would unmask the Klan, and I can see no reason why it should not be passed by the legislature," Cuvillier said.

OFFICERS OF ST. JOSEPH'S HOLY NAME SOCIETY
Eugene B. Carey was re-elected president of the Holy Name Society of St. Joseph's Church at the meeting held at St. Joseph's school hall Wednesday evening. E. Frank Flanagan was elected vice-president, and John Nelson, secretary. At the smoker which followed the business meeting an enjoyable entertainment was given in which Paul Tholan sang solos. Eugene Castor played violin selections, David Freer, Jr., sang, Leo Smith did some artistic close dancing and the American Brothers rendered instrumental numbers. Four interesting boxing bouts followed.

"The Religion of Lincoln."
At the Friday evening services at Temple Emanuel, the subject of "The Religion of Lincoln" will be the theme. The Rev. Dr. Morris R. Cohen will be the speaker.

Troopers Arrest Rare Portuguese

Recn Raesfuzo, In County Jail For Observation—Might Be Connected With Recent Fires at Gardiner—Has $25,000,000,000 In Gold But Is Not Crazy.

Recn Raesfuzo, who claims to have come from Portugal 16 years ago, was brought to the county jail Monday night by Sergeant Murphy and Trooper Metcalf from the Gardiner, where he was picked up as a suspicious character. A complaint of disorderly conduct was lodged against him before Justice of the Peace A. D. McKinstry and he was sent to jail for ten days for observation.

Recn when picked up by the Troopers had comfortably settled himself under a bridge in the town of Gardiner where he had a good fire going and was prepared to spend the night. Nearby was an empty barn and house. Clothed in three pairs of overalls and two suits of underclothing and other outer garments, Recn said he was never cold as long as he sat on the ground but when he walked he became cold. His hair is long and he apparently has not used a razor for a long time. His appearance and the weird tales he told led the Troopers to believe he might be connected in some way with the recent fires which have caused terror to the residents of Gardiner. Recently five big fires have taken place and it is thought Recn might know something about them.

On his person was found $205 in money, mostly in $10 and $20 bills. Besides this he told the Troopers he had $25,000,000,000 in gold hid away in California and that he had spent eight years of his life since coming to this country in a prison in California. His stories were weird and varied. While searching for identification marks the Troopers found the money hidden in a bag underneath his underclothing. Apparently he did not consider the loss of the money when it was confiscated. He informed them that he had plenty more. Another story was that several people owed him money. In fact every place he had ever worked he claimed money was still due him.

The first strange man was noticed about Gardiner was when he came out of the woods last July to get provisions from a local store. He was dressed even in the hot weather in heavy clothes. He wore a chin-chillie overcoat thrown about his shoulders but never wore the coat with his arms in the sleeves. Frequently he was observed in July and August clad in his overcoat, skipping from one clump of woods to another. He came out of the woods at times and purchased provisions.

At the time of his arrest he was prepared to partake of his evening meal. A loaf of bread, sardines, a piece of bologna, cake and a bottle of peppermint was found among his articles about the fire.

In searching for money on his person the troopers came across a small bag sewed in the lining of his overcoat. Believing this to contain money, they opened it and found inside a small sheep-lined purse. Opening it, they found a quantity of apple seeds. At first he refused to tell why he had them, saying that he would not tell the troopers his "secret," but finally he was persuaded to tell the secret. He said he saved the seeds and dried them and was going to plant them and raise a great apple orchard.

Producing a time table, he told the officers that he had just returned from Chicago where he went to talk with some Portuguese speaking people. He pointed out on the time tables where he had gone. He had come, he said, to Middletown, where he purchased a ticket for Utica and there he had changed cars and come by way of the New York Central to Chicago. Arriving there he had stopped in the station for an hour and seeing no Portuguese people he had taken the next train home, arriving the morning of his arrest. He claimed to have been en route to Utica to work at the time of his arrest. A Mr. Birsch there, he claims, owes him money and he was going back to work and to get the money.

Sergeant Murphy touched one finger when he asked the man if he had ever been in an insane asylum. This provoked the prisoner and he denied having been in an asylum, and stated in no uncertain terms that he was not "crazy."

In view of the five recent fires near Gardiner and the fact that on the prisoner's person were found two packs of cigarettes, which he continually smoked, he was taken in charge and during the observation period the fire situation will be observed by the troopers who are working on the cases.

McDERMOTT FINDS MARY (CHANGES IN 30 YEARS)
John McDermott, who formerly resided on Chambers street and has been away from this city for about twenty years, was found on the northern and western canals, has returned to town and finds many changes after making trips about town. He expects to make this city his permanent home.

He sold his own by no means small business to the corporation whose sales department he now manages. Silhouette No. 42 was that of Capt. Everett Fowler, whose latest achievement has been to become author and publisher of "The Old Houses of Kingston."

Women Lose Fight For State Regent
Legislature Decide on Members of State Board of Regents—Women Want Place on Political State Committees.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Albany, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Republican women of New York state today lost their fight to have a woman elected to the state board of regents. Led by Miss Sarah Schuyler Butler, vice chairman of the Republican state committee, a score of prominent Republican women urged the lawmakers to elect Mrs. Florence G. Pratt of Nassau county to the board of regents from the second judicial district. For a time it appeared as if the women would have their way, but finally the lawmakers decided upon Robert W. Hight of Queens.

Charles B. Alexander of Tuxedo will be re-elected to the board and Roland B. Woodward, secretary of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce, will fill the vacancy caused by the death of Pliny T. Sexton of Palmyra.

The senate and assembly will meet in joint session tomorrow noon to elect.

Mrs. Beatrice B. Stevenson, vice chairman of the Kings county Republican committee, was urged as a member of the board of regents by a group of women from her county.

The women are making a determined fight to have the legislature pass a bill which would open the way for women to become members of the state committee. Several Republican county leaders are opposed to the measure.

Babies Cheaper Than Chow Dogs
But Difference in Cost of Baby For First Ten Months Is Only $6 Less Than Price of Pedigreed Chow.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Boston, Feb. 10.—It cost $8 less to raise a baby for ten months than it does to buy a pedigree chow dog, statisticians who claim an addition to the high cost of living notwithstanding.

Bernard Tarpey, a Boston policeman, and his wife have the figures. Their new daughter, Marie Veronica, ten months old, has cost them $142.22 since the day the stork left her. The very least a pedigree chow dog can be bought for is $150.

Here is the upkeep of the cooling infant: Doctor's fee, $50; nurse's salary, $20; baby's layette, $5; cape, $1.28; white corduroy coat, $1.50; bonnet, $7.50; 12 pair of stockings, $3; two pairs of shoes, $2; four shirts, $3; girl robe, $7.50; four blanket bays, $15; two white dresses, $12.22; crib, $15; milk, $36; oatmeal, $4; total for food, $40.

To Sell $11,000 Of School Bonds
City Treasurer Harry S. Jacobs will sell $11,000 worth of school bonds at public auction at the city hall on April 1. An ordinance authorizing the sale of the bonds was recently adopted by the common council. The proceeds of the sale will be used to pay school bonds previously issued which fall due.

Radio Tests Seem To Indicate Life

Workers Still Hopeful They Will Find Floyd Collins Alive in Kentucky Cave—Military Court of Inquiry Holds Open Sessions.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Cave City, Ky., Feb. 10.—The daily radio tests today brought back the same murmur of life from the inner recesses of Sand Cave to the head phones at which a physician listened.

The beats, said by electrical engineers to be respirations transmitted by the microphone, came at the normal speed of health, varying from 20 to 27 a minute.

Once Dr. William Hazlett of Chicago said he thought he counted them as high as 32, but this, he said, might be accounted for by other factors along the wire which might give an additional pulsation.

Prisoner Eleven Days.
This is Floyd's eleventh day of imprisonment, eleven days spent in a natural straight jacket with icy water trickling over his body, without food, unable to move and yet it is believed he still lives. It is this apparent miracle spurs on digging operations, keeps men working until they drop from exhaustion and holds a nation in suspense.

Military Court Public.
Under executive order from Governor William J. Fields, public sessions of the military court opened here today to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the attempted rescue of Floyd Collins from Sand Cave, where he has been imprisoned since Friday, January 30.

This is a morale-building move. Since rumors began to circulate freely as to incidents occurring during the early days of the finding of Floyd's entombment, it has become apparent that some action to allay the suspicions of the public as to the facts in the case was essential. It was with this in view that the military tribunal obtained permission to make its investigation a public hearing.

Meantime, hope that the shaft, the last resort, would reach Collins before his death was visibly shaken today. Efforts to find another entry into the passage where he lies in a rock shroud met with little success. The shaft has been sunk about 35 feet with approximately as much still to be excavated. Workers were discouraged with the maddening slowness.

Radio tests were taken recurrently as much as to encourage these laboring as to determine whether Collins is still living.

John Gerald, the man who assumed control of the rescue work because of his asserted friendship with the entombed man, will not be asked to come before the court and give his version of the entire affair. Nor will he have an opportunity to reply to accusations against him.

While the first organization and hearings are being held in Cave City, the inquiry court will adjourn later to the rim of the pit where the work of digging continues.

Coolidge Opposes Unified Service
By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, Feb. 10.—President Coolidge is not in favor of a unified air service, such as is advocated by Brig. General William Mitchell and a considerable bloc in congress, it was announced at the White House today.

While convinced of the growing importance of air craft both in the commercial national defense senses, the president nevertheless considers air craft to be largely in an experimental stage, and not an arm of the government yet sufficiently important to warrant a unified service.

BOYS NET DEATH IMITATING COLLINS
By Telegram to The Freeman. Ventura, Cal., Feb. 10.—Business stopped in this town today while tribute was paid to Kenneth Bastard, 12, and Thomas Thompson, 11, Ventura boys, who died while pretending they were "Floyd Collins" dying in a Kentucky cave.

A sudden collapse of sand in which the miniature Kentucky cave was built, buried the two boys and smothered them to death.

ALBANY ACTRESS TAKES OVERSEER OF VERONAL
By Telegram to The Freeman. New York, Feb. 10.—Miss Windy "Billy" Weston, 24, a vaudeville actress, was in a serious condition in Bellevue Hospital today suffering from an overdose of veronal. The actress said she had taken an excessive amount of the drug five days ago.

FRENCH COURT GRANTS DIVORCE TO AMERICAN
By Telegram to The Freeman. Paris, Feb. 10.—Mrs. Alphonse Hirschberger, nee Randall, was granted a divorce today by the Seine Tribunal in New York.

The tribunal granted a divorce to Mrs. Hirschberger, nee Randall, who was married to the late Alphonse Hirschberger, a Frenchman, in New York. The divorce was granted on the ground of desertion for three years.

Freshets Cause Heavy Damage; Ice Unsafe Here

Central New York Under Water in Many Places and Melting Snows Threaten Greater Damage—Hudson River Ice Honeycombed and Taxi Drivers Abandon Use of Cars in Crossing.

In this city, the southern section, including the Onondaga valley district, was under water. Scores of families awakened this morning to find the overflow from Onondaga Creek flooding their cellars and cutting them off from the higher lands. A general exodus in the south end district is under way.

Thousands of dollars' worth of damage has resulted, traffic is blocked and classes have been dismissed from school at Onondaga valley. Swollen by rain and melting snow, the creek burst over its banks and swept a large area of the valley with a murky flood today.

The torrent is sweeping small buildings and hundreds of loose articles with it. People are moving their furniture from the first floors of their homes as the waters continued to rise.

Boats that had been placed in readiness at the first indication of a flood were floated for rescue work. The West Seneca street bridge is so deeply under water that no traffic can cross it. Street cars on the line that goes over the bridge are blocked. Automobiles that made an attempt this morning to dash through the torrent pouring over the bridge became stalled when the water reached the engines.

The sections of the village lying on one side of the stream are cut off from each other by the inundated areas. Boats are the only means of communication and locomotion.

House Swept From Foundations.
Naples, N. Y., Feb. 10.—Destruction lay in the wake today of huge avalanches of snow and ice, the result of the recent snow storm, which swept down the steep hills above the lake road near here.

The home of Mrs. Louisa Scholl at the foot of a gully was struck with tremendous force by a rapidly moving mass of snow and ice which reached as high as the eaves. The house was moved a foot from its foundations and the cellar was flooded.

Piled ten feet high in the Lake Road, a mass of ice and logs is completely blocking traffic. Jamming of culverts caused a flood which covered farms and a section of the Lehigh Valley tracks. Several automobiles were caught in the washouts and abandoned.

The avalanche came suddenly following a three days' thaw which melted the huge accumulation of snow left by the storm.

Hornell Streets Inundated.
Hornell, N. Y., Feb. 10.—A serious flood threatened this city today as streams began to overflow their banks after the three days' thaw. Water from the Chenango river is overflowing the East Main street bridge to a depth of two feet. Many streets are inundated.

Onondaga Faces Worst Flood.
Onondaga, N. Y., Feb. 10.—With three hundred homes surrounded by water and ten streets in the lower sections of Onondaga inundated, this city today faces the worst flood in several years.

APPREHENSION CAUSED BY PASSAGE RIVER
By Telegram to The Freeman. Patterson, N. J., Feb. 10.—Rising steadily, the Passaic River today was within a few inches of the danger mark and threatening to sweep into the Passaic Valley. Residents of which were reported hurriedly removing their belongings.

Rescuing of the Morris Canal to divert the flood waters of the river has been urged upon the state board of conservation and development by Mayor Melan of Patterson.

AMERICAN BROADCASTING HEARD IN EUROPE
By Telegram to The Freeman. Paris, Feb. 10.—J. L. Menard, traveling by rail from Mont Rejoan to Toulouse, was able to hear two American radio stations and an Australian broadcaster, using a set without an aerial, according to a dispatch from Paris today.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

(For this Department supplied by the American Legion Home Service.)

HELPED ADD 20,000 MEMBERS TO ROLLS

Carroll J. Swan, newly elected commander of the Advertising Men's post of the American Legion at Boston, has been very active in the affairs of the Legion for several years. His latest outstanding activity was as chief of staff to Gen. Clarence Edwards, commander of the Massachusetts department. In the great membership campaign of 1924, as the result of which more than 20,000 members were added to the department rolls. The elaborate plans for the campaign, modeled after an attack of war days, were worked out by Mr. Swan.

Mr. Swan has also been active in the Military Order of the World War. He was for two years commander of the Boston chapter and for one year national vice commander of that order. He was chairman of the general committee to run the 1924 convention of the Military Order at Boston.

Enlisting in the first corps of cadets in the Massachusetts militia in 1902, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1914. He organized Company D of the One Hundred and First engineers in the Twenty-sixth division and was made its captain. He took the company overseas and engaged in all the campaigns of the division. He was promoted successively to major and lieutenant colonel. He was the author of the first book by an American soldier on the World War, which was published under the title of "My Company" by order of the War department in 1918.

A graduate of Harvard, Mr. Swan has been engaged since leaving college in the advertising business. He is New England representative for a string of newspapers.

Service Men Are Urged

to Investigate First

Watson B. Miller, chairman of the American Legion National Rehabilitation committee, has issued a statement warning former service men with disability claims before the United States veterans' bureau against coming personally to Washington to appeal their cases without first securing definite information that their papers are in Washington.

Under the new reorganization of the veterans' bureau all files of papers have been sent out to the regional offices of the bureau and no action can be secured in Washington on these cases until the papers have been returned. Mr. Miller points out that men go to Washington to present claims without sufficient funds to sustain them until their papers arrive in Washington, and soon find themselves in desperate circumstances. The Legion and other agencies in the city are not able to care for the normal load of transient former service men arriving in Washington without funds on one mission or another.

Auxiliary Interested in Real Home Girls

"The old-fashioned girl who can cook and sew is the great hope of the future," declared Mrs. C. D. O'Connell, national president of the American Legion auxiliary, in announcing that the auxiliary would co-operate nationally with the American Home Economics association in the instruction and advancement of home economics. Mrs. O'Connell continued:

"The girl who can make her own up-to-date, stylish frocks and then put on her apron and cook a dinner, may be considered old-fashioned, but, in my opinion, she's a real winner. There is a greater need than for us to get back to homelike and home-making. Let us stand by the home girl. In the interest of community and national stability the auxiliary is going to co-operate in the advancement of home economics and administration."

ENDOWMENT FUND IS GIVEN GOOD START

Organization work for the American Legion endowment fund movement is now under way in a limited number of states, according to Russell Creviston, national adjutant of the Legion. Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky were the states which decided first to launch the project. It will be extended gradually until it becomes nationwide in scope.

Field secretaries took the field with the new year. These men, expertly trained for their task, are loaned by the national organization of the Legion to the various state departments to assist them in organizing for the work.

Jarvis Price of Topeka, Kans., is the field secretary working with Department Commander Thomas S. McConnell of Fowler, Ind., and Department Adjutant Frank H. Henley of Indianapolis in organizing in Indiana. Randolph Bishop of Johnson City, Tenn., is co-operating with Department Commander Frank D. Rash of Eastington, Ky., and Department Adjutant T. H. Hayden, Jr., of Louisville in organizing work in that department. Department Commander Howard P. Savary and Department Adjutant F. J. Beckel of Illinois are being assisted in Chicago by Philip B. Stapp of Greensburg, Ind., and in the rest of the state by Beau Kemp of Bloomington, Ill.

As the field secretaries left national headquarters at Indianapolis, members of the permanent headquarters staff made their contributions. A total of $1,405 in cash and pledges was given. Officials in charge of the endowment movement said that on this basis the Legion and the auxiliary alone would make up a fund of $20,000,000.

Announcement was made that the endowment will be in the form of a perpetual trust. It will perpetuate the name and principles of the Legion long after all Legionnaires, all disabled veterans of the World War and all orphans of veterans are gone. The principal of the fund is to be held intact. It will be administered, after the Legion is gone, by organizations designated by a board consisting of the then President of the United States and other prominent persons.

Acceptance on the honorary committee for the endowment movement have been received from: W. G. McAdoo of Los Angeles, W. W. Atterbury of Pittsburgh, recently chosen as president of the Pennsylvania Railroad company; James A. Flaherty of New Haven, Conn., supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus; John G. Price of Columbus, Ohio, grand exalted ruler of the Elks; Cardinal O'Connell of Boston; John Barton Payne of Chicago, chairman of the American Red Cross; Richard F. Grant, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois; Julius H. Barnes of New York city, former president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; Kenneth M. Landis of Chicago, commissioner of organized baseball; Mrs. Lou Henry Hoover, wife of the secretary of commerce; Marshall Field III of New York city; Col. Albert A. Sprague, member of the Chicago city administration and formerly chairman of the Legion's national rehabilitation committee; Jesse H. Newton of Denver, Colo., president of the National Education association; Maj. Gen. James G. Harbord of New York city; Mrs. Medill McCormick of Chicago; Miss Anne Morgan of New York city.

Heads of various patriotic and veteran organizations have accepted membership on the committee. Among them are: Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook of Cooksburg, Pa., president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution; Dr. Louis F. Arensburg of Pittsburgh, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic; Chauncey W. Herrick of Washington, commander-in-chief of the United Spanish War Veterans; George W. Harries of Chicago, commander-in-chief of the Military Order of the World War.

Past national commanders of the American Legion are members of the honorary committee. They are: Milton J. Foreman of Chicago, Henry D. Lindsey of New York city, Franklin D'Olier of Philadelphia, John G. Emery of Grand Rapids, Mich.; Sanford MacKider of Mason City, Minn.; Alvin Owsley of Dallas, Texas.

All Time Counts, Late
Ruling on Compensation

In response to an inquiry by American Legion officials interested in the administration of the adjusted compensation act, Attorney-General Harlan Stone made a ruling pertaining to men who were absent without leave while in service, the gist of which is: The length of service means that portion of time spent in the service of the United States within the limits prescribed by the adjusted compensation act, and that if the veteran has been discharged from the service under honorable conditions, all of the time so spent shall be considered as service regardless of whether or not it was in the guardhouse, on K. P. assignment or in any other place.

Plan Joint Convention

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Texas-Arkansas post of the American Legion, it was decided that a special effort will be made to induce the two state Legion conventions to hold their annual conventions jointly at Texarkana in 1926. There is much logic in the move, for the towns of Texarkana belong just as much to one state as the other as it is situated exactly on the Texas-Arkansas state boundary line.

Delightful Choral Club Concert

Schubert Choral Club of the Y. W. C. A. Assisted By Harry T. Burleigh Rendered Rich Musical Program Monday.

A large and enthusiastic audience greatly enjoyed the concert given by the Schubert Choral Club of the Y. W. C. A., assisted by Harry T. Burleigh, baritone soloist and composer, at the High School auditorium on Monday evening.

The Choral Club, which now numbers seventy girls, has been working earnestly under the leadership of Miss Virginia Los Kamp, contralto soloist of the Rondout Presbyterian Church and teacher of voice in New York city. In the past year the club has made real progress in musicianship. It is pretty well balanced as to parts though a few more contraltos and altos would be an acceptable addition to the number. Their singing is graceful, musical and expressive and Mr. Burleigh paid them particular compliment for their admirable singing of "Goin' Home," from Anton Dvorak's "New World Symphony." Mr. Burleigh told most interestingly of being with Dr. Dvorak at the first two or three performances of that New World Symphony, after he had spent much time in the south, fairly saturating himself with the negro spirituals so that it was little wonder that the second theme in the large movement was almost identically the first part of "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

The concert opened with the Schubert Choral Club singing "Ole Uncle Moon" by Charles P. Scott; then "Morning" from the Peer Gynt Suite Op. 46, No. 1, arranged from Grieg by Christopher O'Hare, which was marked by a particularly clean-cut attack and release; and finally that dainty little song, "Two Clocks," by James H. Rogers, which was very well sung.

Mr. Burleigh was given a real ovation and the charm of his singing was greatly enhanced by his descriptions of the music. In telling of the "Spirituals," Mr. Burleigh said they were distinctive negro religious songs, not just plantation ballads or minstrel songs as many thought they were. Unwritten music, sung from the heart and with a fervor hard to describe, they were truly "Folk Songs," and Mr. Burleigh has been devoting much of his time of late years in getting these songs so written as to make it possible for the whole world to enjoy them, where formerly they were the exclusive musical property of the negroes. He had some illuminating work to say of each song and there was a breathless stillness in the large audience during all of his singing that was the greatest compliment possible to pay a musician.

His first group of the Spirituals included, "Go Down Moses," "I Want to Be Ready," "I Stood on the Ribber of Jordan," "Sinner, Please Don't Let Dis Harrow Pass." As an encore he sang, "Hard Trials, Great Tribulations."

The "Song of India," by Rimsky-Korsakow, is a difficult but very pleasing number and the Choral Club sang it admirably. Then they sang one of Mr. Burleigh's songs, "Oh, Didn't it Rain?" in a manner that showed the composer had quite inspired them. The club was enthusiastically applauded.

During the intermission, Mrs. G.

F. Rice, president of the board of directors of the Y. W. C. A., told a little about the Schubert Choral Club, which was founded under the educational program of the Y. W. C. A. They felt that they had been especially fortunate in securing the services of Miss Los Kamp as director as she had such a keen sense of the educational value of good music. The Schubert Choral Club is open to all girls and young women in Kingston, and any such girls and young women who would like to join the club are asked to telephone the Y. W. C. A. before the rehearsal next Friday evening, when they will be taken up for the May concert to which the audience was cordially invited. Mrs. Rice said that the club has been particularly fortunate in securing Mr. Burleigh, who was singing for himself as their soloist, which remark was heartily applauded.

Part two began with a group of two songs by the club, "Three Kings Have Journeyed," by Peter Cornelius, arranged by Frank Damrosch, with an obligato solo by Miss Mildred Messinger and by "Goin' Home" by Dvorak, which Mr. Burleigh complimented "The Three Kings Have Journeyed" was sung unaccompanied, and with Miss Messinger's rich contralto voice in the obligato part was especially effective.

The audience besides thoroughly enjoying Mr. Burleigh's rich baritone voice in the singing of "Nobody Knows de Trouble I've Seen," "I Got a Robe," "I Don't Feel Noway-Tired" and "O, Peter, Go Run-a-Dem Bells," learned many interesting things about the negro spirituals that they had had no idea of before. As an encore he sang "De Gospel Train," and as a second encore, something quite different a real negro lullaby, "What was more, Mr. Burleigh sang a lullaby as it should be sung, with the soft low croon that courts sleep, instead of doing forissimo stunts to show his skill, while robbing his listeners of the last vestige of any desire for slumber. That slumber song was a gem. And still the audience would not let him go, so finally he sang a weird and terribly serious spiritual, "O Mother, Doan You Weep When I Am Gone."

The program closed with two songs by the club, "The Snow" by Edward Elgar, with violin obligato by Miss Mae Eckert and incidental soprano solo by Miss Jessie Cowley, and "Rachem," by Manna Zucca, sung in Hebrew. They were two excellent numbers and the audience recalled both Miss Los Kamp and the club girls.

Miss Usher of New York was the admirable accompanist. Mr. Burleigh held a short, informal reception at the close of the concert, after which the young people repaired to the Y. W. C. A. gym, where dancing was enjoyed under the chaperonage of members of the board of directors.

Immanuel Church Dedication Week

Most Successful Week in History of Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church Concluded—Speakers Urged
More Training in Religion.

Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, Livingston street, has just concluded in its dedication week what has been declared by many of the members to have been the most successful week in its history. The services and other activities enjoyed a record breaking attendance. The spirit and interest on the part of the members was most encouraging.

The dedication service began on Sunday, February 1. Special organ music and selections by the mixed, the male and the children's choirs did much to embellish the service. Pastor George Schmidt, of Immanuel Lutheran Church, New York city, delivered an English address, taking for his subject, "The Parochial School an Asset to the Church and the State." Pastor Schmidt pointed out that the question which is agitating the minds of educators today, that of giving the American more and thorough religious training, finds its most efficient and satisfactory solution in the Christian day school, thus training an intelligent and well-informed laity for the church and a citizenship for the state which honors the powers that be for conscience sake.

Pastor F. P. Wilhelm, former pastor and now of Messiah Church, New York city, speaking in German, emphasized the fact that all work in the church—this also—is acceptable and well pleasing to God only, if the personal consecration of those performing it have preceded it. Both speakers were listened to with marked attention and their words made a profound impression. The audience proceeded to the building where Charles Hoffman, Jr., turned over the key to Pastor F. T. Schroeder, who formally opened the building. For an hour and a half people poured through all parts of the building and expressions of surprise and delight were heard on every hand on the beauty and practical arrangement of the building.

The children of the day school held forth on Tuesday evening. The entire program was well gotten up and well arranged. After a program lasting about an hour the congregation had the privilege of hearing Dr. M. J. Michael, superintendent of schools. Mr. Michael commended the congregation on its work and said that it had built well to shoulder the additional expense of providing a school for the Christian training of its young. He, like the speakers on Sunday afternoon, commented on the necessity of more training in religion for the youth of the land for which school officials in every part of the land were endeavoring to make provision since religious instruction is and must be barred from the public school. A rising vote of thanks was given Dr. Michael for his address and the many favors Immanuel School has enjoyed at his hands.

They also wish to express appreciation to the schoolmen of the city who took the trouble to attend. Thursday evening was the congregation's get-together evening, a banquet for members only. A fine turkey dinner was served, William Eudendrup, Jr., acted as toastmaster and acquitted himself well in this maiden attempt. Songs were sung by the assembly, the male choir and addresses were made by the pastor, the teachers, the presidents of the various societies, the chairman of the congregation and a representative of the building and finance committees. A humorous address by William Peters must not be forgotten. About 250 of the members sat down to the banquet. It was a most encouraging evening and will long remain as a pleasant memory to all who attended.

Friday evening was the smallest in point of attendance, yet a most enjoyable evening was spent by all. The bowling alleys were opened with a bowling contest. Prizes were awarded to the three gentlemen and the three ladies dropping the largest number of pins with nine balls. On all evenings the assembly remained together until a late hour.

Dedication week will long be remembered by the members of Immanuel Church as one of the most successful and inspiring in its history. It is hoped that the spirit manifested will be continued until liquidation of the debt is accomplished. The building, finance, publicity and arrangement and the social evening committees deserve much credit for their excellent work. They also want to record the splendid support which these committees received from the members who aided in installing the desks, in cleaning up and making the building presentable for the dedication. They are too numerous to mention, but their work is appreciated, and their names known to all the congregation.

Copies of the booklet issued at the dedication are still available and will be given upon application. The building is also open to inspection to anyone desiring to do so.

PROTESTANT FAMILY SUPPER AND STUDY HOUR.
Another of the series of family suppers and study hours being held at the Rondout Presbyterian Church this winter, will be held Thursday evening in the chapel of the church. The committee in charge of the supper will be Mrs. J. A. Hulse and Miss Grace Trevellick. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock.

The ladies of the church will meet Thursday afternoon in the chapel of the church to sew garments.

The week of February 15 will be "National Loyalty Week" in the Presbyterian Church, and will be observed by this church.

Keep Straight Path
So gratifying is the response to the program of January 27 that the committee is now planning a similar program for the week of February 15.

The church is now open to inspection to anyone desiring to do so.

The church is now open to inspection to anyone desiring to do so.

Smile.
If I knew the light of a smile
Might linger the whole day

Dr. Baragwanath Writes of Spring-
Like Conditions in Florida.
Valrico, Fla., Feb. 4, 1925.

To the Editor of The Freeman.

Sir:—I want to tell you how much your paper, the Semi-Weekly, is appreciated by us down here in the southland. Our nearest neighbor,
Mrs. Eugene Carl, a former Kingston-ian, has been a subscriber for many years.

To read it is like looking into the face of an old friend a long way from home, while it lets one know of affairs in the Colonial City. It seems strange to read of 27 below zero near Kingston, for here most of the times it is like summer, the thermometer running over 80 at noon. In the front yard the roses are budding in the breeze, while many of the trees are in leaf and bloom. I picked ripe Japanese plums the other day, and nearly are peaches already formed, while the mulberry tree has already expressed its inner life in fullness of leaf and full sized berries. The delicate purple lantana adorns the wire fences along the roads, and as we stop to pick them we see early orange trees as white as early sprinkled over with fresh-fallen snow, the exquisite blossoms radiating beauty and filling the air with fragrance.

Yes, and even as I write this note
I can hear the mocking bird tuning up his lyre in soft dreamy notes, sure sign that mating time has come, and the Carolina wren is heard above the hush cries of the blue-jay. I would like to write of some experiences, some amusing, all interesting; but a note of this kind, like my vermouth when pastor at St. James, must be brief.

Truly yours,
T. H. BARAGWANATH.

P. S.—For some days we missed the paper on account of great floods in Georgia.

Scouting and The Schools

Address By Clarence Dunn
Broadcast Monday From WDBZ
Program In Observance of Boy Scout Week.

In observance of National Boy Scout Week, Station WDBZ, local scout station, will broadcast a program this week, when a number of interesting talks will be delivered by scout leaders.

Monday evening, Clarence Dunn, member of the Kingston High School, will give a very interesting and instructive address on "Scouting in Relation to the Schools."

Scouting and Schools.

Mr. Dunn spoke in part as follows:

"Scouting is a supplementary program. It is designed to supplement, not supplant the three main institutions which should function in every boy's life: the home, church and school. Scouting cannot be expected to replace any of these three institutions. In other words it cannot be considered a complete substitute for educational processes as found in present day schools. But as a supplementary educational program it challenges the attention of all broadminded educators."

"I am sure of my ground when I say that local school teachers and principals are sympathetic towards scouting. A fellow teacher in the High School said to me just a few days ago that he regarded scouting as one of the most wonderful systems ever devised."

"I have had occasion in my travels over the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, to observe the boy scout. I have noticed that the scout is a reliable, trustworthy, dependable boy. He is ever ready to do his bit to help the other fellow; he carries responsibility better than the average boy has not had the advantage of scout training; his sense of honor is highly developed. I have observed boy scouts in large cities directing traffic and in other ways aiding the police department of the city."

"Some of the features of scouting, when properly applied, that appeal to educators, are, first, scouting provides a vigorous physical outdoor life for the formative years. A life the like of which transformed the anemic, delicate Roosevelt boy into a man of marvelous vigor and vitality. Modern education demands a foundation of a strong, healthy boy for its full results."

"Second, scouting provides a high class of consecrated volunteer leadership for the years of boy adolescence when crime and religious alike recruit their largest numbers. It appeals to the age of greatest importance—at least so regarded by all who believe in prevention rather than cure."

"Third, scouting purposely provides activities with which to fill up the boy's leisure time—activities that grip his interest. The interest in made one of the chief means of appeal. Leisure time which might otherwise be wasted or used for degenerating activities is turned towards such constructive objectives as character development, and citizenship training. Modern education demands not merely a highly trained or crammed intellect which may be housed in a weak body with a background that is socially, morally and spiritually all wrong, but rather a well developed, well rounded four square man. It looks to scouting to help in this rounding-out process which must produce the real man of tomorrow."

"Fourth, many educators are interested in scouting because it seeks to direct the gang tendencies that are perfectly normal adolescent instincts into socially productive channels. In this respect alone there are wonderfully potent forces which if properly directed will contribute much toward a better citizenship."

"Fifth, scouting, under proper circumstances, will help the boy find himself in his efforts to look into his own future. It will help him avoid a blind alley and avoid becoming a 'square peg in a round hole.' In other words, scouting, especially in its advanced stages, will help a boy in vocational guidance."

Program For Week.

The delightful musical entertainment was furnished by Miss Ethel Schwab of Bangor and the Allen Brothers of Woodstock and from the great number of phone calls received at the station, their numbers were thoroughly enjoyed."

The program for the balance of the week is as follows:

Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, Louis S. Cox, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will speak on "Citizenship and Scouting." Mayor's String Orchestra will furnish the musical program and Miss Gladys Crow will render a number of solo songs.

On Thursday evening, February 13th, Lincoln's Birthday, Capt. Everett Fowler will give an address on "Lincoln, His Place in the History of our Country." Troop No. 19 of the Redemptor Lutheran Church will hold a troop meeting over the radio. There will also be musical numbers.

Friday night, Rev. Joseph H. Fowler will deliver an address on "An Appeal for Leadership in Scouting." There will also be musical numbers.

On Saturday afternoon between 1 and 3 o'clock the public is invited to visit the broadcasting studio at the city hall and inspect it, and learn how the program is sent out. At intervals during the afternoon there will be broadcasting going on so that all those interested in the station can become familiar with how it works.

New England Supper.

The Old Society of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church will serve a New England Supper at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, from 8 o'clock until all are served.

SCHOOL DAYS

Mother's Cook Book

I don't like to talk to people who always agree with me. It is amusing to converse with an echo for a while, but one soon tires of it—Carlyle.

GOOD THINGS WE LIKE

MOST of us stuff peppers when they are plentiful and in the markets, and when they are scarce and high use them as a garnish and flavor for various dishes; that is about the usual use; as a vegetable they are not well known.

Green Pepper Soup.
Wash and remove the seeds from some eight medium-sized peppers, then cook in boiling water, adding salt at the last. Drain, reserving a pint of the pepper liquor. Put the peppers through a puree sieve and add to the pepper stock. Melt five tablespoonfuls of butter in a kettle, add five tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until well blended. Add the puree with three cupfuls of milk, two teaspoonfuls of salt and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of pepper, stirring constantly. When smooth and creamy, sprinkle with paprika and serve.

Baked Apple Compote.
Pare, quarter and core four large apples. Place in the bottom of a buttered dish a thin layer of cake crumbs or sweet biscuit crumbs. On top of this place a layer of apples, sprinkle with sugar, dust with cinnamon or nutmeg. Over this place a layer of sliced banana and repeat, using a large cupful of orange juice or sweet cranberry juice. Cover with a layer of crumbs and bake until the fruit is tender. Serve with a hard sauce if served hot. A sprinkling of nuts over the bananas will improve the flavor.

"What's in a Name?"

By MELBRED MARSHALL

Think about your name; is history in it? Is it a name that is as old as the hills? Is it a name that is as new as the daisy?

CECILIA

CECILIA, signifying Blind, is said to be derived from Caelus Vitreus, an Etruscan general who named the Caelus Hill and Coelian Gens. The woman of this family were given the name of Caelus or Cella. In Venice the latter became Zita and Zillola, which are often found to belong to the noble ladies who were the wives of the Doges. At Naples the name became Lillola.

The Irish have adopted it as Sile or Sheela. Cella and Cella are used both in France and England, probably under some mystic notion of the connection with heaven, whose Latin name is Caelum. It is said that the prevalence of Cella in English towns is due partly to the popularity of the Irish Sheela and partly to a confusion with Cecilia.

Perhaps the best known bearer of the name Cecilia was that gentle saint who has furnished inspiration for painters throughout the centuries. St. Cecilia was one of the early Christians martyred at Rome in 230. She is said to have converted her husband, also afterwards martyred, despite the fact that she was forced to marry him after she had taken a vow of celibacy. She is considered the patron saint of music, particularly sacred music.

Cecilia's talismanic stone is a stone called Opal. It is said to give to the wearer a soft heart and freedom from danger. The stone is generally worn as an amulet, rather than as a piece of decorative jewelry, and indeed, in recent years the demand for it has been enormous in Sweden, where such talismans are fashionable.

Cecilia's lucky day is Tuesday, and one is considered her lucky number.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

THE GREAT-HEARTED

ONLY the great-hearted can be true friends.

All along the shadowed ways of life, the great-hearted are constantly sending out sunlight and cheer, which humans of inferior natures can never know or bestow.

To do good, without having their motives suspected, is their grand intention. They seek no praise.

They move about with a quiet of summer breezes, leaving in their trail the delicious scent of gardens and the peace of tranquil skies.

In the happiness they give to others, they find a gratification rich beyond price. If but once in your life you should be fortunate enough to meet a great-hearted man or woman, the remembrance of it will linger in your mind until the end of your days.

Great hearts often dwell in lowly places. Sometimes they are found in frail bodies poorly clad, but there is about them a radiance of spirit brighter than a thousand stars and clear as the beaming of the noonday sun.

Great hearts blow to flame the spark that blazes with love; they espouse Truth and Mercy; they sing from morn till night of kindness and good will, when their days are lonely and their tables are bare.

They are neither silent nor neglectful when the ill and the discouraged need succor or sympathy.

Meek or lowly they are the ministering angels from heaven, carrying to the sorrowing "good tidings of great joy."

From idle slumbers, they call youth and point the way to honor and fame; from the valley of gloom, they bid the despondent to look up to the glorious heavens.

They sin as we all sin, but unlike most of us, they are charitable towards all mankind, prayerful, watchful, faithful.

When the chimera in the belfry chant their evening hymns, no souls on earth are more serenely peaceful than the great-hearted: when at the setting sun of their life the streams of light grow dim in the golden west, and the somber shadows fall all about them, no souls on earth are happier than they, or more eager to go.

Six Killed by Freight Engine

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chester, Pa., Feb. 10.—Six persons, two of them women, were killed today when a Pennsylvania freight engine plowed into an auto and a motor truck at the Market street grade crossing at Marcus Hook, near here.

The Known Dead.

William Whitman, Chester, Pa., driver of the truck.
John Newlin of Marcus Hook.
The identity of the other dead has not been learned.

Five persons were in the automobile and two on the motor truck.
One of those in the automobile was seriously injured.

Whitman's body and that of his helper, belinger to be George Winterbottom, of Lyndwood, were found a quarter mile down the track from the crossing. They had been carried that distance on the pilot of the locomotive.

The other dead were hurled from the automobile to the sides of the tracks. Both the truck and automobile were a mass of wreckage after the crash.

The woman injured is Mrs. Gertrude Mowery, a welfare worker. She is in the Chester Hospital suffering from a fractured shoulder.
According to witnesses, it is said, the gates at the crossing were not down.

PARLIAMENT MEMBERS RUSH FOR CHOICE SEATS.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Feb. 10.—Parliament reopened today with the historic rush of members for the choicest seats in the House of Commons.

The first members arrived at 5:30 a. m. The Viscountess Astor was the first woman to appear. She arrived at 8 a. m.

The former premier and members of opposition of parties, Lloyd George and Ramsay MacDonald, gave notice to Parliament that they would want time to debate the government's "safeguarding industries" policy, which, they claimed, was a tariff policy under another name.
Premier Baldwin told Commons the government welcomed debate and that he would set a date for the debates. The government, he said, hopes to allay misconception that the measure is a camouflaged tariff act.

Weiss Missing on Way to Beacon

New York Police Believe Wealthy Riverside Driver Was Murdered While Taking Pay Roll to Beacon Factory.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 10.—Police here today that Isadore Weiss, wealthy manufacturer of Riverside Drive, had been robbed and then murdered, following the making public of a note sent to the Weiss family. It read:

"We had been waiting for the pay roll for the last three weeks. The fool put up a fight and we had to throw him into the river."

Weiss has been missing since Saturday morning. Shortly before he disappeared he drew $15,000 from a New York bank with which to make a pay roll at the factory of the Weiss Straw Hat Works in Beacon, N. Y., of which he was president. He did not reach the factory. Relatives said he had no financial or other troubles which might cause him to leave his home.

The murder theory was strengthened by mail receipt by Weiss' family of papers he had taken with him and his Masonic charm. The note, unsigned was written on a telegraph blank.

Japan Completes Scrapping Ships

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Tokyo, Feb. 10.—Japan has completed the scrapping of warships required under the Washington arms conference treaty, the naval office announced today.

Fourteen ships have been scrapped since December, 1923, the statement declared, including the Tosa, which was sunk Monday.

The vice minister of the navy, answering an interpellation in the Diet, declared the department does not regard the United States Pacific naval maneuvers planned for this summer as a menace to Japan and denied statements from the United States that the Japanese navy is now more powerful than that of America.

Odds and Ends

Circle 1 of the First Presbyterian Church will meet in the church parlors on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Missionary Society of the Ponckhockie Congregational Church will meet Wednesday evening, at the home of Mrs. W. R. Anderson, Ponckhockie street.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Temple Emanuel will hold their monthly meeting Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Sunday school room. Coffee and Kuchen will be served.

The Pocahontas Social Club will hold a progressive picnic party this evening at the home of Henry Macbold, 80 Mary avenue. There will be prizes and refreshments. The public is invited to attend.

The February meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Trinity M. E. Church will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Miss Sarah Thompson, President's Place. This is the annual mite box offering. All mite boxes are due at this time.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Class of Clinton Avenue M. E. Church will be held this evening at Epworth Hall at 7:30. An exceptional meeting has been planned and it is expected that most of the roll of 125 members will be present. The class orchestra will assist in making an interesting evening.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

W. Jay Avery of the church district, Seeger, died on Wednesday evening after a long illness. The funeral was held at M. E. Church on Sunday, the Rev. Mr. Reich and the Rev. Mr. Combs officiating. Interment in Woodstock Cemetery.

Mrs. Catherine Tisdell, widow of Patrick Tisdell, died this morning at her home, No. 34 Ten Brock avenue. Funeral from the late residence Thursday morning at 9 o'clock and from St. Mary's Church at 9:30 o'clock. Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Ann, widow of George Hamilton, formerly of this city, died Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Warren D. Burr, of Buffalo. Funeral services at the chapel of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Interment in Wilkirk Cemetery.

Through inadvertence it was stated in Monday's issue of The Freeman that Mrs. Charles B. Reynolds was a sister of Charles Reynolds who was fatally injured at the West Shore station that morning. It should have been Mrs. Charles B. Westbrook of Brooklyn.

There was a large attendance of relatives and friends at the funeral of Mrs. Mary Teller at the family residence, 260 Fair street, Monday afternoon. The Rev. J. Wilbur Teller, pastor of the St. James Methodist Church, of which Mrs. Teller had been a most consistent member for years, officiated. The Rev. Dr. Frank R. Seeger, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church, assisting in the service, which was impressive in its simplicity. There were many beautiful floral tributes. Bowers were Rodney M. Osterwald, Mrs. S. Teller, Everett Fowler, Charles Tappan, Cornelius S. Treadwell and Herbert Carl. Interment was in Wilkirk Cemetery.

Coolidge Would Retain Property

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 10.—President Coolidge is in favor of the principle contained in the Borah bill, which would return all German property seized in the United States to its original owners but is inclined to doubt the feasibility of such a wholesale return as Borah has proposed.

If it was pointed out, at the White House, the United States should return these hundreds of millions of German property and then call upon Germany to pay approximately $500,000,000 she owes the United States out of other funds, it would undoubtedly lead to complications with other nations which have also huge claims against Germany and which have confiscated German property seized in their countries to apply on Germany's debt to them.

LaFollette Leads Warren Attack

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The fight against confirmation of Charles B. Warren, of Detroit, as attorney general came out into the open today when the people's legislative service, backed by Senator Robert M. LaFollette, launched a scathing attack upon the appointment.

The organization through Basil M. Manly, a political lieutenant of LaFollette, charged Warren with being responsible for alleged trust activities on the part of the Michigan Sugar Company and the Toledo Sugar Company against which the Federal Trade Commission issued a complaint for conspiracy to restrain trade. Manly charged Warren with being president of both companies when the alleged acts of conspiracy were committed.

Basilica Greek Name for Hall of Justice

The word basilica is of Greek origin, being derived from the Greek word, (written with Latin letters), "basilikos" meaning kingly. From that word has been formed the English adjective, basilic, meaning royal, also said of certain parts or substances on account of their supposed importance or efficiency. The word basilica, as a term of architecture, meant originally at Athens a portico on the agora in which the archon-basilic dispensed justice, that is, at Athens the basilica was the porch of the courthouse. Later, when Rome had become the mistress of the world, the word basilica meant a rectangular hall, divided into nave and aisles by ranges of columns, and with a raised platform, called the tribune, at one end. It was used as a hall of justice, a hall for the use of the high courts. It was in such a hall that the praetors held their courts and later under the emperors the prefect's courts met in a basilica. The prefect or judge sat on the tribune or platform, with the assessors or law advisers on either hand. The emperor presided when the case was an appeal, in a criminal matter, from the decision of a governor of a province. It was before such a court, held in such a hall, that the appeal of St. Paul was heard. In later years when Christianity had spread throughout western Europe, the Christians often adopted the basilica as the pattern of their larger places of worship. Hence basilica now means a church built on the plan of the basilica of ancient Rome.

Sleep-Walking Traced to Disordered Brain

The researchers of a group of scientists recently have thrown some light on the dark subject of sleep-walking. They have found that sleep is a more or less willful turning away of the senses from the demands of life—because at the moment these demands cannot be satisfied.

When we are weary all our senses—all our nerves—are so played out that they "turn away from life" at the same moment. The brain, so to speak, goes to sleep in a lapse.

It happens occasionally that a part of the brain is poisoned by disease, whereas the rest of the organ remains healthy. When the healthy parts fall asleep the excited, or poisoned parts, remain awake.

In the case of the sleep-walker, that part of the brain which controls the movements of the legs is awake, while the eyes and ears are sound asleep.

In other words, the sleep-walker is suffering from partial brain poisoning.

The idea that sleep-walkers should not be awakened is a mistaken one. Experience shows that if they are roused to an immediate sense of their situation they are more likely, on future occasions, to wake themselves.

Weather and Health

Doctors are realizing more and more that changes of weather cause changes in the human body. They say that sunshine and rain, cold and heat, are important factors in our health. The study of the relations between the weather and health has become a new science, which is called "climatology."

Vote on Postal Pay Bill Today

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The postal pay increase bill is expected to pass today this afternoon and be sent to the senate.

Little time will be allowed for consideration of provisions of the measure. No changes will be permitted. It is feared by leaders working to get the legislation through the house that if the bill be thrown open to changes it will be cut to ribbons.

Show Confidence In Sec'y Wilbur

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The house naval affairs committee came today to the defense of Secretary Wilbur and of officers of the navy who have been criticized by Brig.-General William Mitchell in his attacks on the manner in which military aeronautics have been managed.

A resolution was adopted by the committee expressing confidence in Wilbur and his associates in the bureau of aeronautics but did not mention Mitchell by name.

The resolution denied General Mitchell's charge that naval officers had been intimidated by their superiors because of their testimony on naval matters.

Meanwhile the house air craft investigating committee, before which the "Mying general" testified, was preparing to come to his defense.

Society Notes

Bruck-Krum.

Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Krum of Krumville announce the marriage of their daughter, Ethel J. Krum, to Harry J. Bruck, at Tompkins Cove, by Father O'Donnell Saturday, February 7. Mr. and Mrs. Bruck are making their home at 90 Murray street.

Kouhout-Stokes.

Frank Kouhout of No. 15 DeWitt street and Miss Nellie Stokes of No. 14 Post street were quietly married on February 8 by the Rev. A. M. Wilkins of Trinity M. E. Church. They were attended by W. Sickles and Denna Van Steenberg.

Sorosis.

The members of Sorosis met at the home of Mrs. Ramsey on Albany avenue on Monday. Mrs. Drake made the paper for the day and told most illuminatingly of "British Colonies in Africa." The roll call was a lively one of oral topics. Next Monday Sorosis will meet with Mrs. Van Wageningen.

Monday Club.

The regular meeting of the Monday Club was held this week at the home of Mrs. Boeve, when Mrs. Elting gave a very interesting and thought provoking paper on "The Chinese Revolution of 1911." Next week the club will meet with Mrs. Lawton at her home on Crown street when "The Opium Question" will be the subject of the paper.

Olympian Club.

The regular meeting of the Olympian Club which was to have been held Monday evening was postponed until tonight on account of the Schubert Choral Club concert. This evening the club will be the guests of the Misses Cordes, Case and Hull and will have supper at the high school, to be followed by the regular program.

Federation Meeting.

The postponed open meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs will be held Saturday afternoon, at 2:15 o'clock in the parlors of the St. James M. E. Church. The Lowell Club acting as hostess. Miss Noone will give readings, from two of Bartlett's plays and Mrs. Cuddey will give several violin solos, after which there will be a social hour and refreshments will be served.

A Birthday Anniversary.

Answering the door bell of her home, 185 Elmendorf street, Mrs. Krom was surprised when surrounded by a number of friends and relatives with arms full of bundles and boxes saying they were birthday gifts for Westbrook Krom, now confined to the house for more than a year with a broken hip joint. All were welcomed by the host and hostess and a very pleasant evening was enjoyed with music and singing.

A bountiful repast was served. One of the guests declared himself fully equipped for the advertised trip on the clouds or most any other place in the West. Then came the grand climax, a table bearing a large birthday cake with the proper number of candles lighted. All present expressed an eagerness to investigate the interior qualities which were pronounced very fine after their long trip from Bridgeport, Conn.

Twentieth Century Club.

Mrs. Ward B. Everett was the hostess of the Twentieth Century Club on Monday afternoon. The day was devoted to "Contemporary American Poetry," the program being arranged by Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Allen. In recognition of Lincoln's Birthday this week, the afternoon was begun with a reading of 144 Tarbell's "We Know Lincoln," by Mrs. Fremont. Mrs. Walker then gave an interesting and entertaining account of Edgar Lee Masters and Joyce Kilmer, with readings from their writings, while Mrs. Allen devoted herself delightfully to Margaret Treadwell and Louise Driscoll and their poems. The roll call consisted of short poems. This club has decided upon an outline of study for next year. During the first half of the year they will continue considering Twenty Topics included in a period of the last twenty-five years. The second half of the year will be given over to a study of civics. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Williams.

Speed Work by Night Sessions

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Feb. 10.—A Republican caucus of the senate today voted unanimously to initiate night sessions next Monday as a means of speeding up enactment of the administration legislative program.

The caucus also approved the program drafted by the Republican steering committee which gave preference to the bill granting retirement pay to disabled emergency army officers and the bill for the purchase of the Cape Cod ship canal.

Two Killed by Plunging Plane

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Few Realize Great Pressure Under Sea

When you drop something into two or three miles of ocean, you immediately invite hard usage. First, there is the pressure of the water. The weight of the sea at 1,000 fathoms (approximately one mile) is one ton to the square inch, or 150 times as great as the air which we breathe. Go down 2,500 fathoms and there is a pressure many times more powerful than that of the steam in a locomotive boiler.

Captain De Carteret told one of a test that was made on the cable ship Colonia in mid-ocean, writes George W. Gray in the American Magazine. An empty soda water bottle—one of the kind that has a conical bottom—was fitted with a long stopper of hard wood trimmed to fit the neck of the bottle snugly, and cut so as to make it barely touch the bottom of the bottle. The bottle was weighted and let down to a depth of 2,000 fathoms. When it was brought up, the point of the wooden stopper was protruding through the thick glass bottom. The pressure of the water had converted the stopper into a hydraulic ram, and had driven it so nearly through the bottom of the bottle that there wasn't even a star fracture in the glass.

Another cable seaman told of lowering a piece of meat, properly weighted to make it sink, in the mid-Atlantic. After being exposed to the near-freezing temperature and the squeezing weight of a thousand fathoms of ocean, that tough roast beef came up as tender as veal.

Mother Had to Wait for Engagement Ring

I married a young man not greatly blessed with worldly goods, says a writer in the Washington Star. It taxed his financial resources to the uttermost to start even our modest housekeeping, so our engagement was not sealed with the customary ring, although I did have a small wedding ring.

During our early married life we had to work and plan to make just a poor living for our three little girls, for although John's salary increased, so did living expenses, and luxuries were unknown.

Soon after our eldest daughter became engaged, John made quite a sum of money on a business deal. One evening he came home with an expensive looking ring box, and opening it, showed us a beautiful diamond ring. We all supposed it to be an engagement present for daughter. She looked complacent, while the younger girls were frankly envious.

My heart fluttered when John interrupted with: "Here, wait a minute. That's mother's engagement ring. Goodness knows she's waited long enough for it, but now's the first time I've been able to afford the kind she deserved."

Ancient Pleasure Spot

At Scarborough, known throughout Great Britain as the "Queen of Watering Places," after 200 years of service, the once popular mineral springs have been closed. Scarborough has long been a place of recreation. The mineral springs are said to have been discovered in 1620, and towards the end of that century, the place was becoming fashionable, and a building was erected over the springs. Then came the earthquake, following which the springs were lost for some years, but they were found again, and the place was a great resort of fashion in the eighteenth century. In 1777, for instance, Sheridan could take Lord Pomfret and the rest on a trip to Scarborough, to taste the "water and jelly of the place."

Twenty-two million letters were sent to the dead letter office in Washington last year. And there probably would be a bill in any of them—Horton Star.

Financial and Commercial

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 10.—The stock market was active and strong today; in spots. Action in the market centered about the sensational movements of a few active stocks, largely under the control of powerful professionalists.

Cast Iron Pipe's further rise of 13 points to 233, a gain of nearly 40 points since Saturday, was the feature of the high priced shares. American Can sold in fairly large volume at 172.

Worthington Pump up 5 points at 72; Savage Arms up 4 at 84; Continental Can up 3; Universal Pipe; common and preferred, up nearly 3 each; Allied Chemical up 2 1/2.

Another heavy buying movement in Mack Trucks pushed the price to a new high at 146 1/2; 7 points above the previous close. General Motors lost about one point on profit taking.

Independent Oil and Gas was the only oil stock to benefit to any extent from the buying demand for oil, selling more than 2 points higher while other independent shares were retreating to the lowest level for the movement.

The Steel Corporation reported an increase of 220,000 tons in forward steel orders, slightly above expectations but steel stocks were generally reactionary, with the exception of Crucible, which sold up nearly 2 points.

The sharp decline in grains was a feature of the speculative markets. Cotton held steady. Foreign exchange was irregular. The supplies of call money increased in the fourth hour and rates declined to 3 1/2 per cent against Monday's closing rate of 4 1/2 per cent.

Dempsey After Another Million

$1,100,000 Is Figure Quoted for Champion's Return to the Ring, Meeting Gibbons and Harry Wills.

(By Davis J. Walsh.)

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 10.—The rather disputed sum of $1,100,000, almost the size of the gate on the night

Dempsey fought Firpo, has been set as the price of the champion's possible return to the ring, according to reports in circulation today.

It is declared that Jack Kearns, noted collector of rare and well done coins, has demanded and will get that amount for his champion before the latter will step out, if at all, against Tom Gibbons and Harry Wills during the impending outdoor season.

A round three-quarters of a million has been demanded for the Wills fight alone. It is said.

Neither Tex Rickard nor those behind the financing of Henderson's proposed stadium would admit today that such was the case and not without reason. It is a violation of the boxing code in this state to quote fixed quaranties to any fighter.

Friends of both promoters, however, were insistent that the terms quoted above were Kearns's own and professed to having read telegrams to that effect.

For the Gibbons bout, it was said, the Kearns demand was exactly $350,000 with the privilege of cutting in on the receipts above that figure. This, it true, would bring Dempsey at least $50,000 more than he received for giving Carpenter a rough push on the shoulder, the occasion in question being the last on which Rickard has made important money out of a heavyweight bout. The Dempsey-Kearns interests were outmaneuvered on that occasion.

In this case Kearns's terms, at least for the Wills bout, are almost ruinous. They would force Rickard, if that gentleman ever had any real interest in matching Wills and Dempsey, to build a new arena of a size quite beyond his usual pretension. It would have to seat at least 110,000 and every chair have a well financed occupant for the promoter to reach the financial clear after paying Dempsey and Wills their price.

It is more than likely, therefore, that he will abandon any thought he may have about this attraction and confine his attention to matching the champion with Gibbons at a more modest and consoling rate of exchange. In this event, Wills can be used as a smoke screen. Literally or otherwise, for the Gibbons-Dempsey buildup and if the role appeals to him, Charles Henderson may be permitted the privilege of holding the bag.

SEEDED DRAW IN LIGHTWEIGHT TOURNEY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 10.—Embarrassed by the withdrawal of Sid Terris, Sammy Mandell, Johnny Dundee and Sid Barabarian from the lists, the New York State Athletic Commission has decided to institute a seeded draw today among the remaining entries for the lightweight championship elimination tourney.

The decision was prompted by the belief that a seeded draw, preventing the best entries from making in the early rounds, is essential to the maintenance of interest now that the four stars have removed themselves from the ranks.

Gibbons-Firpo Bout.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 10.—Negotiations for a bout between Tommy Gibbons and Luis Firpo to be held in Detroit next June, are being conducted by a Detroit syndicate, according to an announcement today.

A tentative agreement has been reached with the St. Paul boxer whereby he will receive a flat guarantee of $75,000 for his services. It is stated, Firpo has been offered a purse of $40,000.

Meusel's Salary Too High.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Feb. 10.—The question of salary to be paid Emil "Irish" Meusel was said to be the only thing holding up the proposed transfer of the player from the New York Giants to the Boston Braves.

Meusel has had a fat contract with the Giants for several years but slumped so badly during the 1924 season that it is understood Manager Dave Bancroft, of the Braves, is unwilling to assume his obligations.

Chicago Team Leading.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 10.—Thirteen teams in the six day bike race were endeavoring today to regain the lap by which the Chicago team of Ernst Kockler and Carl Stockholm led the field.

The windy city entry gained the lap after ten minutes of furious sprinting last night and despite hard riding by the other teams, maintained their advantage.

Sporting Squibs

Princeton uses 200 footballs during a season.

Mickey Walker is an architect. He draws his own plan of attack.

Milton Dominique has been added to the umpiring staff of the Sally league.

Atlanta of the Southern league has obtained Pitcher George Fipgras from the Yankees.

Zachary Davis, a Chicago architect, is known as America's foremost designer of baseball parks.

Ninety-five per cent of Western university's student body is taking part in outdoor athletics.

"Stuffy" McInnis continues to play a good first base for the Boston Braves, despite his slowness of foot.

Manager Dave Bancroft of the Boston Braves, sick most of last season, fell far below his standard of play.

Pasvo Nurnal does not speak very good English, but against our American runners his Finnish was perfect.

Pitcher Walter Reuther will be with St. Paul again next season, the Tankees deciding to let him remain there.

Not so bad. The Cincinnati Reds recently declared a 12 per cent dividend to the holders of the common stock.

The Pacific Coast league, as usual, will be the first league to swing away on the 1925 schedule, the opening day being April 7.

Alex Smith, a semi-pro third baseman from Washington, Pa., has been given a contract by the Richmond club of the Virginia league.

Connie Mack has managed the Philadelphia Athletics since 1891, and John McGraw has led the Giants since 1898. They are the highest salaried managers in the game.

"Turkey" Ford is to continue as Yale's man of destiny. Not only will he captain the Yale baseball team this spring, but also seek to retain his post as one of the best pitchers in the college ranks.

As a ballplayer Roger Brunsman was never a "yes man." He is to take Coy Ficken's place with the Giants this summer and may find it a hard task. Ficken's favorite word when talking to John McGraw was "yes."

Custom in Dinner

A hachment is a part on which the arm of a lifted person are displayed. It is hachment-shaped or square, but being conservative, and was attached usually in the walls of the dwelling to give public notice of the person's desire.

Peekskill Five Here Wednesday

Wednesday evening, at the St. Peter's court the Peekskill Knights of Columbus squad will oppose the St. Peter's Lyceum quintet. The local Saints have a clean slate on the home court and are out to keep it clean, by winning this struggle.

The Peekskill outfit comes here highly recommended, having had a very successful season on the court.

About two weeks ago the local Saints travelled to Peekskill and met defeat. Tomorrow the locals will have an opportunity to even up matters.

Professional rules as heretofore played will be used only in half of the struggle, the other half being played under A. A. U. rules.

There will also be a preliminary game in which the Saints Juniors will meet the Peekskill K. of C. Juniors. The usual dancing will follow the main event which will begin at 8:30 o'clock.
